 2. Partial refund of 80% of the registration. The remaining 20% can be totally used to register in any of the following 3 editions of the event.
3. The possibility of bad weather is part of the possible conditions to carry out the race and it will not be cause of cancellation of the event except in very extreme conditions that may seriously jeopardize the integrity of the participants.

ARTICLE 7. NEUTRALIZATION

1. In case the day of the race, the forecasts are worse than those expected and are considered to put the runners in danger (such as electrical storm, lack of visibility, snow, ice, etc.), the start may be delayed by the organizers or it might be neutralized if it is already underway.
2. If after a few hours conditions do not improve, that stage of the PSR 2023 could be suspended.
3. In this case, the runners will wait at the checkpoint where they were stopped and wait for the indications of the organization in order to be evacuated.

ARTICLE 8. ROUTE

1. The race mainly follows the GR 11 - Transpyrenees, a classic long-distance footpath that crosses the Pyrenees from sea to sea on its south side. The PSR 2023 will start in Ribes de Freser and finish in Salardú after 7 stages with finish/start in Nuria Sanctuary (Queralbs), La Masella (Alp), Encamp (Andorra), Arinsal (Andorra), Tavascan, Estèrri d'Àneu and Salardú.
2. Five Natural Parks are crossed along the route: "Parc Natural de les Capçaleres Ter i Freser", "Vall del Madriu-Perafita-Claror", "Parc de les Valls del Comapedrosa", "Parc Natural de l'Alt Pirineu" and "Parc Nacional d'Aigüestortes i Estany de Sant Maurici". Participants undergo, like any other visitor, the rules governing these protected areas. The organization will provide riders the rules of these protected areas and are not responsible for the actions of the participants in its passage through these protected areas.
3. Some sections are shared with traffic, therefore precautions must be taken at any time and traffic rules must be followed.
4. The GR11 and paths that will follow the PSR 2023 are public and open to the rest of walkers and runners who want to transit through them; respect to the other users will be required at all times.
5. A briefing explaining in detail the route of the next stage will be performed every day.
6. For each stage there will be an alternative route at lower altitudes, as an alternative in case of bad weather. If there is the need of taking the alternative route, this will be reported during the briefing.
7. The distance, profile, food-stations and time limits of each stage can be found on the website of the event <http://psr.run>.
8. There might be surprise checkpoints (not announced in the website) carried out at any point of the route of any stage of the PSR 2023.

ARTICLE 9. MARKING

1. The route of the race must be followed with a GPS device (it can be a watch) that will be mandatory for at least one of the team members. The route of the PSR 2023 will mainly follow the GR11 which is marked with the classical red and white paints of long-distance footpaths. Additional marking of the route will be made with ribbons, and more frequently in areas where the marks are difficult to follow or where the race route deviates from the GR11. This additional signaling may be interrupted at any Natural Park when this is a requirement in order to cross it.
2. The 4th stage between Encamp and Arinsal will be called "ADVENTURE" and will not be marked, so you will need to follow only the GR11 marks and the GPS track.
3. The organization will provide participants with the track of each stage, as well as alternative routes through a mail that will be sent a few days before the start of the race.

4. Participants are responsible for downloading the track through the website <http://psr.run>, load it to the GPS device and check its proper functioning. Participants are also responsible for maintenance and battery charge of the GPS before each stage of the PSR 2023.
5. It will be mandatory for each team to carry the roadmap for each stage (provided by the organization) and a compass to orientate and understand the map.
6. Each day the organization will notify during the briefing the sections where the race route deviates from the GR11, in order to pay greater attention in these sections.

ARTICLE 10. SEMI-AUTONOMY AND FOOD STATIONS

1. The race will be performed under semi-autonomy conditions, that is, each participant will be responsible for managing their own water and food needed to finish the route. The PSR 2023 is an event that demands a high physical and mental training, a correct management of your own strength, as well as water and food. In this respect, it is highly recommended to have previous experience in long-distance mountain races.
2. However, the organization will provide two or three food-stations (depending on the length of the stage) with liquids and solids (they will be informed in the route section of the website). At the end of each stage there will always be a complete food-station for all participants.

ARTICLE 11. TIME LIMITS

1. The time limits for each checkpoint will be published in our website (in the section “Route”) and in the roadbook.
2. Participants reaching a checkpoint after the time-limit will be automatically disqualified from the stage. However, they can decide to complete the stage, but it will be under their own responsibility and provided that they hand the race bib to the responsible of the checkpoint.
3. Disqualification because of time limit won't mean the reimbursement neither total nor partial of the registration fee and won't prevent the teams to participate in the following stage but they will no longer be considered “Finishers” of the PSR 2023.
4. The organization may decide to extend the cut-off times to adapt them to the weather conditions and the specific circumstances of the stage.

ARTICLE 12. WITHDRAWAL FROM THE RACE

1. Teams that decide to withdraw from the PSR 2023 must abandon at one of the checkpoints and notify the organization. Only a severe injury will be accepted as a reason to withdraw in a different point of the race, because this would imply either land or air rescue.
2. The organization only guarantees transportation of participants to the finish of the stage, when they abandoned in a checkpoint with motorized access.
3. The organization will not transport participants who have abandoned until the end of the stage, in order to ensure the optimal development of it.
4. The organization guarantees the accommodation (in the same option selected during registration) at all stages in case of withdrawal but cannot guarantee transportation between stages.

5. In case of abandonment of one of the members of the team:
 - In the case of a team of two, the other is allowed to continue in the race whenever he/she goes always together with another team participating in the PSR 2023. The participant that continues in the race will be considered "Finisher" provided that he/she finishes all the stages under the conditions of this regulations but he/she will no longer be part of the official classification of the PSR 2023, as this will only be considered among the complet registered teams which started in the first stage of the PSR 2023.
 - In the case of a team of three, the resulting team of two is allowed to continue and will be considered "Finishers" provided that they finish all the stages under the conditions of this regulations but they will no longer be part of the official classification of the PSR 2023, as this will only be considered among the complet registered teams which started in the first stage of the PSR 2023.
6. The organization and/or medical service may require a participant to abandon or force him to make a stop if they consider that he/she is in physical risk.
7. Withdrawal by any reason won't mean the refund neither total nor partial of the registration fee.

ARTICLE 13. TEAMS, CATEGORIES AND PRIZES

1. Registration can be made in teams of two or three runners. These teams may be mixed, men or women.
2. The organization will never put together teams and there must be a previous mutual agreement and make the registration with the same team name. However, the organization published a section in the website for potential participants who are seeking a partner to run the PSR 2023 so they can contact each other.
3. Participants of each team must be together at the start of the stage, all the checkpoints and at the finish. If one of the members of the team arrives two or more minutes earlier than the other member at any checkpoint or the finish, the team will receive a 60 minutes penalty in the classification. The second time this happens, the team will be disqualified from the event.
4. Categories:
 - Men Team
 - Women Team
 - Mixed Team
5. Awards:
 - Stage winners: medal to the top three finishers for each category at the finish of each stage of the PSR.

 - All participants who finish the race within the time limit set will be recognized as "Finishers".

ARTICLE 14. TIMING AND CLASSIFICATIONS

1. General classifications will be calculated adding up the times of all the stages. The final winners will be the ones who have needed less time to complete all the stages of the route.
2. In case that both participants don't finish together but the time difference is less than two minutes, then the time of the last participant will be taken into account.
3. The official results will only be those published in our web page: <https://psr.run/en/results/>

Emergencies during the race

5. All runners have the obligation to provide assistance to other participants in need, according to their own capacities and knowledge. Not doing so implies committing a serious punishable offence of “non-assistance to a person in need”.

 1. Move to a point where there is mobile network, so you can be in permanent contact with the race director. Do so ONLY IF IT IS POSSIBLE and NEVER LEAVING THE ROUTE.
